

A Time for Exploration: Live, Learn, and Lead

Your first year at Arcadia University presents you with a unique opportunity to develop new skills, explore the world around you, and create a career pathway to success. Students participating in the Live, Learn, and Lead community explore their identity in the University and develop key skills to assist them in successfully navigating their path in the world.

Students will want to participate in this community if they:

- Desire to strengthen their leadership skills
- Want to take charge of their educational experience by developing self advocacy
- Seek to better understand how their personality type impacts their relationships with others
- Are undeclared and want to explore different educational opportunities and pathways

ARCADIA
UNIVERSITY

Topics explored in this community include:

- Leadership skills
- Self-advocacy
- Personality type
- Professional etiquette

Questions?

Please contact us at housing@arcadia.edu or call 215-572-4026

www.arcadia.edu/housing